

Although controlled by the Southern Pacific, the vast majority of Cotton Belt's freight car fleet had subtle differences from that of the parent Southern Pacific. Most notable was the font of the data. Southern Pacific by and large used a roman face for their data, Cotton Belt on the other hand had a sans serif face. This Data set provides you with the correct font face plus some useful dimensional and car class data. Use with 87-219 or 60-219 for n-scale.
